1. Approval of Minutes – The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as distributed.
2. Updates:
  - a) Student Building Fee Allocation – No update.
  - b) Clean Air Project – The t-shirts have arrived. The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, February 19 at 4:00 p.m. here in the Health Center Library. Ramah has the Ben Linder room reserved for Thursday, May 1, for an event next term, perhaps something like an open forum. The faculty staff task force was created with no one from the subcommittee invited and no SHAC students. Paula did hear from Paul Vondochler, from Human Physiology and Brian Smith under Frances Dyke who are supportive. The group members are talking about ways to get students rallied around the clean air project, perhaps with testimonies, and petitions to be submitted to the task force. Students have also been doing presentations and announcements in classes, announcements to get student support. Julie Charron will be doing a presentation for one of the national honor societies.

Ramah and Paula attended an alcohol conference and did a presentation on a smoke free campus and what they doing to gain support from the students and faculty/staff. The concept of a definition of workplace on a campus isn't one confined to an indoor workplace.
  - c) Student Wellness Committee – No update.
3. Revision of the Deficit Reduction – (Prevention through Affordable Access Act) Sarah Sweatt of Planned Parenthood will be scheduled for a later meeting as she was unable to attend today's meeting. She is working on the Act that was passed by the Legislature in 2005 that came into effect this year, causing the rise in prices of prescription drugs and doing work to get legislation through to fix the part that made affordable birth control unavailable.
4. Recruitment Advertisement/Outreach – Ramah Leith and Kate Davis will be working on a ad that will be used as a flyer as well as getting information on departmental newsletters that come out approximately once a month. Kate sent Paula the content of the newsletter where recruitment and peer health announcements could be placed. Mike Pangburn provided a link about the Business School newsletter. Human Physiology has a list serve that we possibly get access to, to put out an announcement. PPPM also has a newsletter. Noelle Ronco will be providing the contact information for the Psychology Department on Psychology. Kate has also been given contacts for Work and Family Services and the College of Ed. Paula suggested that SHAC student members could do an editorial for the ODE.

Paula and Kaylie are working on a blurb of the importance of SHAC for the Pre-Health Newsletter which has to be submitted by mid-March to Lori Manson in Academic Advising in order to get into the April newsletter (just in time for recruitment).

Cheryl Malasig is working on the bulletin board in the EMU.

What is the goal? To attract new members and talk about the Health Center and get the word out that this is an opportunity to gain leadership skills. What does SHAC Do? Kim Barker will send out the SHAC portion of the Health Center annual report for information. Another goal is to let students know that the SHAC members are their representatives for the Health Center; What would they like to see at their Health Center?

5. Tabling Scenario – Kate will send out e-mail reminders to those who signed up to do tabling. What should be used for tabling:
  - Sign up sheet
  - SHAC Sign
  - Information on what the SHAC does.
  - Cards
  - Brochures
  - Counseling Center Ducks
  - Perhaps the power point slide show running on a computer if power is available.

8. Items Not on the Agenda:
  - a) Peer Health Recruitment – Ramah Leath announced that she will be accepting applications for Peer Health Advisors with ad coming out in the ODE on Monday. She encouraged students to make announcements about this in their classes.

9. Adjournment – The meeting was adjourned at 4:00 p.m.

Kim Barker, Recorder
